WHY
STUDY AT WESTERN SYDNEY?

→ A LAW DEGREE WITH A CONSCIENCE

Western's courses are a unique alternative to more traditional law schools, with community law activities that give you real world experience. Here's just one example of how our law students gain experience through interaction. Since 2010, the University has operated the Parramatta Community Justice Clinic, providing a much-needed service, while giving students a unique learning opportunity. Experiences like this empower you to make positive change in the world, wherever your degree takes you.

Our lecturers will challenge, stretch and inspire you, and our connection with prominent, respected professional networks will set you up for career success.

→ SUCCESSFUL CAREER PATH

Established in 1996, Western Sydney University's School of Law has quickly grown in stature as an institution preparing world-class legal professionals. Among our Law Alumni are leading barristers, partners and solicitors in many of Australia's most prominent law firms, human rights advocates, law academics, tipstaves and associates to Justices of the Supreme Court of NSW and the High Court of Australia, as well as leading business, government and community sector lawyers.

→ LEARN FROM LEADERS IN THE FIELD

Our connection with pre-eminent, respected professional networks will set you up for career success. Our lecturers will challenge, and inspire you to forge an exceptional legal career.

→ HONE PROFESSIONAL SKILLS

The University Law Library houses the fourth largest e-law library in NSW, with over 50,000 titles and links to international resources. However, you need more than just books and precedents to become a top-flight legal professional. Developing professional skills through real-life practical experience during your degree will prepare you to step into any legal environment you choose.

→ RICH LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS

Law is offered at both the Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Both offer excellent facilities, including moot courts for practising advocacy skills, a comprehensive library, and computer-based legal research facilities. Each campus is directly linked to the community and reflects the cultural diversity, energy and growth of the region. In May 2010, Western Sydney University opened the Parramatta Community Justice Clinic which provides our law students with the opportunity to learn in a clinical environment where legal advice is provided to members of the community.

→ GLOBAL ASPIRATIONS

Get a taste of international legal systems as an exchange student, or follow in the footsteps of other Western Sydney University Law graduates by completing postgraduate studies at other leading international universities in Europe, the United States, Canada and China. Our internationalised curriculum which includes Foundations of Chinese Law, will set you on the right path.

→ PRACTISING ADVOCACY

Mooting is an important part of our Law curriculum, providing the opportunity to develop skills in advocacy in a setting similar to a real court. Our Law students have the opportunity to moot judges and barristers, academics and solicitors from leading law firms. You may choose to undertake the Practising in the Public Interest unit with the Public Interest Advocacy Centre.

→ MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Doing pro bono work is the best way to get real 'on-the-ground' legal experience. You have the chance to learn what the law is all about and to make a big difference – both to your clients and to your career, with rich personal rewards an added bonus. Initiatives, such as the Pro Bono Students Australia program and the Parramatta Community Justice Clinic give you the opportunity to gain real-world experience by assisting solicitors in legal drafting, court advocacy, client advising, oral communication, negotiation and mediation, as well as providing members of the community with vital access to justice. What's more, it fosters the ethos of public service, helping the University turn out legal professionals who are not only the best in their field, but who are also mindful of their public service obligations.

→ FREE DIGITAL TEXTBOOKS

Western was the first university to provide all the digital textbooks for your first year units for free. We are pleased to be offering the benefit of free digital textbooks for first year units to students once again in 2018! That's up to $800 in value. Why?
