The Declaration

In acknowledging the privilege of practising medicine,

I make this declaration freely and sincerely in front of my family, friends, colleagues and esteemed teachers.

At the time of being admitted as a member of the medical profession:

I solemnly pledge to dedicate my life to the service of humanity;

I will practice my profession with conscience and dignity;

I will give to my teachers and future students the respect and gratitude that is their due;

I will maintain by all the means in my power, the honour and the noble traditions of the medical profession;

As a doctor, I will be both lifelong learner and teacher;

I will not permit considerations of gender, age, disease or disability, creed, ethnicity, nationality, political affiliation, sexual orientation, social standing or any other factor to intervene between my duty and my patient;

I will work to become an integral part of my community to promote health and wellbeing;

I will respect all that my patients confide in me,

the health of my patient will be my first consideration;

I will not use my medical knowledge to violate human rights or civil liberties,
my colleagues will be my sisters and brothers;

To best serve my patients and colleagues, I will remember to care also for myself;

I will maintain the utmost respect for human life;

I make these promises solemnly, freely and upon my honour.
